Having received several very important improvements, viz.:—

Morrison's wonderful little Engine, for cleaning and excavating decayed teeth, preparatory to filling, which does the work with such rapidity and beautiful exactness, that in a very few seconds an otherwise sensitive tooth is prepared for the Gold in a manner unattainable by the disagreeable method of scraping and burning, so well known by those who have experienced the operation.

Also Green's Electric Engine, which took the grand Diploma of Honor at the Vienna Exhibition. The feat of harnessing lightning is fairly done in this neat, efficient, and truly wonderful little machine. By this we manipulate the gold into the most difficult or frail tooth, with the most exquisite exactness, and without danger of fracturing the most delicate enamel. Then, with the same engine, we finish, and polish the filling in less than one quarter the time formerly required, and without pain. No patient who has had teeth filled in this manner once, will ever willingly consent to the use of excavators or burr again.

We have also received an immense quantity of the most beautifully carved Artificial Teeth comprising thousands of different shades and forms, from which with our long practical experience we can match any style or feature, complexion, or expression, with such artistic inceness that detection is impossible.

The Plate we use for the atmospheric pressure is the Whalebone Rubber, the lightest and strongest known.

We have been using Nitrous Oxide Gas for the painless Extraction of Teeth for nearly fourteen years, and have administered over 20,000 Times,

2,100 times in this City alone, since August 1872,

And recommend it as the safest anesthetic known. It is nothing new, as it has been tested by thousands of Dentists, and hundreds of thousands of people.

Persons from the Camp and neighboring Towns, can have their Sets of Teeth made in time to return same day, by making an appointment before hand,

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

POETS IN ALL AGES HAVE DEVOTED LAVISH PRAISE upon that which so justly constitutes the pride of womanhood, a shiny, silky, wavy and rich head of hair. Baldness in olden times was considered a great imperfection, and still greater now in modern times, when an unfailing, safe and agreeable means to avoid it is within the easy reach of all. Even in cases where the application of the Oriental Tonic is not exactly demanded by disease, it is prudent to adopt it as a hair dressing, since it cannot do any harm, and will, on the contrary, keep the scalp free from all blemish, and impart to the hair an enhanced appearance becoming to all. Gentlemen of taste adopt it as a hair dressing, and extend its use to the beard, because it imparts to it a rich gloss, giving an appearance of refinement and neatness not to be overlooked by the most refined. For sale by all dealers in perfumery and drug stores throughout the world.

CENTRAL URUGUAY RAILWAY

OPENING TO DURAZNO.

It is our agreeable task to record one of those important events in the progress of the sister Republic which will do more to increase her material properity than any event which has occurred in her history of late years.

We warmly congratulate our Oriental neighbours on the occasion, and encourage them to continue in the prosecution of these great industrial enterprises, which while introducing foreign capital into the country, promote immigration by holding out the inducement of constant work to the sturdy but over grown labouring population of European countries, and thus forming a combination of capital and labour which alone are wanting to develop the rich resources of the country.

Never has the demon of Civil War, which in former years so distracted Uruguay, received so deadly a blow as in the opening of the railway to Durazno. And all that is wanting to complete the prosperity of the country, and place its credit on a basis which cannot be shaken, is a wise and firm policy on the part of the Government, reducing military expenditure on the one hand and promoting trade and commerce, by judicious measures on the other, and above all by enforcing respect for law and order by the severe punishment of crime as the surest means of establishing security for life and property throughout the country.

Nature has blessed the countries bordering on La Plata with a fine climate and a soil the fertility of which it would be impossible to exaggerate. All we ask, therefore, is for good police laws and regulations, not merely on paper, but the actual enforcement of them, and with these insured us the tide of emigration from Europe to our shores and the consequent prosperity of the country would be such as to far exceed the anticipations of the most sanguine among us.

We have been led to dwell upon these points at much greater length than we had intended, owing to the very great interest which we take in them, and we will now turn to the report of our special correspondent and the occassion which gave rise to it.

Upon Saturday, the 11th inst. the section of the Central Uruguay Railway from the Veinte-cinco de Agosto to Durazno was opened to public traffic in a very quiet and unassuming manner.

It is now some time since the Government Commission, consisting of seven engineers, inspected the works, and the necessary formalities having been gone through and the Government sanction obtained, the Directors determined to open the line at once to public traffic, and thus meet the wishes of the people living along the line of railway, who were most anxious for the event as it was a matter of the greatest importance to them.

There was no time for any preparations for festivities on the part of the Company, as all the energy of the officials had to be directed to the arrangements necessary for the traffic; hence the opening, although an event of the greatest importance to the future of the country was effected quietly and without fuss, and apparently with as much regularity as if the service had been going on for some time previously.

On the morning in question trains were started from both ends of the line, carrying each of them a fair share of passengers and goods. That from Montevideo left at ten minutes past seven o'clock, and was accompanied by the General Manager of the line and some members of the staff of officials.

Upon emerging from the provisional terminus at the foot of the Calle Rio Negro we at once came upon the works of the new Central Station of the Company, now in process of being erected on the land reclaimed from the bay, where already some houses are springing up around it; thence the line follows parallel with the sea-wall along the new embankment for a distance of upwards of a mile, where it takes to 'terra firma' and enters the cutting from which the material has been obtained for filling up the Playa (a work which has been going on for the last couple of years under the auspices of the energetic contractor, Mr. Pealer) approaching the station of Bella Vista, two miles from Montevideo, where are the principal stores and workshops of the company, comprising offices, engine and carriage sheds, fitting shops, smithies, foundry and gas works (the company making its own gas), all the buildings being of brick and rooted over with French tiles; the fitters' shops being provided with the necessary tools and appliances for constructing and repairing the rolling-stock and machinery employed upon the railway.

Bella Vista is not unworthy of its fine sounding name, the view across the bay to Montevideo in the one direction and towards the Cerro in the other, being very pleasing. Leaving this station we passed over a summit, where beautiful quintas stretch out on both sides of the line, and although now in their winter garb, and naturally not looking to the same advantage as when decked with gay beds of flowers, impart a cheerful and homelike appearance to the landscape. In a few minutes more we found ourselves at the Paso Molino, the station for which place is Yatay; but in my humble opinion it would be more suitably named and better known as Bausement had the Directors called it so, after the popular hostess of the favourite hotel in the garden of which the station stands; many a time has a well cooked and pleasant little dinner, in that same resort, served to refresh the drooping spirits of your correspondent, and restored his equanimity to its normal state.

The pretty station of Colon was the next to attract attention. Here to the left is the new town, upon the property of Messrs. Lezica, Lanus and Fynn, which has been laid out most tastefully, and planted with innumerable Eucalyptus trees. Nor have the religious and educational wants of the inhabitants been neglected, as evidenced by the handsome church and school-houses which have been erected by the enterprising capitalists before alluded to. A tramway laid with wooden rails, runs from the station to the new town, thus adding an additional inducement to people to settle in it. A water-supply from the mainpipes to Montevideo has been laid on and everything bids fair to make this a most popular place of residence for merchants who are glad to escape to the resuscitating influences of the country air when the day's work in the city is over.

Passing on, we were soon at Independencia which is growing rapidly into a thriving and flourishing little town. The new square behind the station looks well and a very pretty church on the opposite side to the station, and built of a similar description of masonry adds much to the effect.

Viale came in its turn and then we arrived at Las Piedras, an old town of considerable importance, 12 miles distant from Montevideo.

Along the greater portion of the line as far as this point new houses are springing up in every direction, and if building operations continue to be carried on with the same energy as during the last couple of years, it is not too much to say that at no very distant date the entire way from Montevideo to Las Piedras will become one continuous street.

The next town after Las Piedras is Canelones, but between them we passed two rural stations, called respectively "Progreso", and "Joaquin Suarez", destined no doubt at some future day to become the centres of important populations, although originally placed there for the accommodation of the surrounding agricultural districts. A town is projected at the latter of the two and already building materials are being deposited there.

From Canelones we proceeded without stopping to Santa Lucia, a pretty town, thirty-seven miles distant from Montevideo, and situated on the banks of the river from which it takes its name. It has become a favourite resort of pleasure-seekers and holiday-makers whose wants are well supplied by the Hotel Oriental belonging to the same proprietors as that of similar name in Montevideo.

Three miles further on we crossed the fine ironbridge over the 'Santa Lucia', a description of which was given in the STANDARD at the time of the inauguration of this section of the railway. This river, moderate as its dimensions now appear, becomes upon occasions so flooded that it overflows its banks in a manner and to an extent which show that it was not unnecessary to provide a structure of such size and strength as that which spans it. A few hundred yards more and our engine ran into the station of "25 de Agosto" and pulled up at the platform, and we had reached the end of the railway hitherto given over to public traffic and the beginning of that portion now to be opened, having passed the entire way from Montevideo through what many be called chacras, or cultivated lands.

Before proceeding on our journey, and taking up what was the real work of the day, we had an opportunity of examining the first portion of the Higueritas Railway which here branches off to the west. Messrs. Waring Bros., who are the contractors for this line also, have a large quantity of materials deposited in their yard alongside the new works, and we were informed that they are about to place a number of extra men upon this line and to push the rails (some of which have been already received from England) on to 'San José' as rapidly as possible. As these works are under the charge of Mr. Prebble, we have little doubt judging from the energetic manner in which he carried out the railway to Durazno, that before many months have elapsed it will become our duty to report the opening of the first section of this new and important line.

The train was rather late in arriving at this point having had a considerable amount of goods to pick up at various stations. It was received with a discharge of rockets, one of which, in the usual erratic way of such missiles, struck an unoffending horse, and sent him off at a gallop to pastures fresh where there were no railways to be inaugurated. The bells of the new church rang a welcome to the train, and the houses in every direction displayed a profusion of flags of all nations.

Having picked up about 20 passengers, we left the Veintecinco de Agosto Station at 10.15, and proceeded on our journey with a train consisting of three passenger carriages, a brake van and eight goods waggons, making in all twelve vehicles, drawn by an engine with the name of Montevideo on it in large brass letters. The line at first rises to the summit of the ridge, or Cuchilla, as it is locally called, by a gradual ascent, and we looked down upon a beautiful panorama of undulating country, which only required planting to give it the appearance of English park lands. On we dashed, with a succession of hills and flattened valleys stretching out from the Cuchilla on each side and twisting and turning about in every direction as far as the eye could reach. The estancias nearest to the railway are those of Magariños, Ortiz, Barcelo and Castillo. The large azotea house, with mirador, of Don Carmelo Barcelo, about a league from the line at mile 53 being the most conspicuous of them.

In due course we reached Isla Mala, the first station on the new portion of the line, and fifty-seven miles from Montevideo. The local legend regarding the origin of the name is that it is due to a cluster of rocks, in the neighbourhood, which rises from the valley, like an island, and formed in by-gone days the haunt of a gang of robbers, whose deeds obtained for it the appellation of Isla Mala, or the bad island.

The Station-house is a neat building composed of granite laid in irregular sized stones neatly pointed with mortar and presenting a very pleasant effect; besides the waiting room, ticket and telegraph offices, it contains a dwelling for the station master.

A suitable goods-shed, built of similar materials to the station house is provided here, as are also sidings for the crossing of trains, and for loading or unloading waggons. Signals and telegraphic arrangements seem in every respect complete, the latter being on the Morse principle.

The position of the station is on a summit commanding a fine view of the surrounding country. When the building was begun there was no house to be seen, except the distant estancias with their unfrequent puestos; but since then a town has been laid out around the station as a centre, and many of the plots have not only been purchased but already some eighteen or twenty houses have been built upon them.

Here too the train was welcomed with rockets, and the bells of a newly built church were rung in honour of the event.

Between the fifty-eighth and fifty-ninth mile posts we passed the estancia of Don Enrique Veledo, an azotea house with mirador perched upon a hill, 500 yards to right of line, and shaded by a fine old ombú growing alongside.

Near mile 66, also to the right, but not so far off, is the azotea house of Don Viviano Bareiro.

At somewhat beyond the sixty-seventh mile we came to the Arroyo Pintado, a picturesque and winding stream fringed with trees; like all other water courses in the country it is subject to very high floods in rainy seasons, and in consequence, a bridge of considerable size had to be provided for carrying the railway over it. This structure consists of nineteen spans of thirty feet each, being finished at both ends by solid masonry abutments, while the intermediate supports consist each of three castiron columns 10 feet high resting upon a pier built of massive granite blocks. The columns are fastened together by diagonal and cross bars of iron, in the strongest manner, and bound at the top by a heavy iron beam resting upon their heads, upon this rests the superstructure composed of wrought-iron lattice girders which carry not only the rails but also a footpath on each side of them, which is protected by an iron hand-railing.

By the side of the bridge a large masonry tower rises from the bed of the stream, supporting on its top an iron tank to hold water for the engines, from which we took a supply for ours.

Rather more than a mile beyond the Pintado stands the station for Florida, beautifully situated on an eminence, but appearing to be about a mile distant from the church in the Plaza.

The selection of a site so far from the centre of the town was occasioned by some difficulties which arose between the railway company and the land-owners in the vicinity of the position on the outskirts of the town where it was at first intended to place the station. It would seem, however that after all public opinion is tolerably equally divided as to whether or not the station is in the position most suited to the general interests of the townspeople. One thing seems certain—that before long the town will spread itself out to and around the railway buildings, as the land is well suited to the purpose.

The accommodation provided for the traffic here consists of a spacious station house and goods shed, both solidly built of handsome masonry, together with suitable sidings and a very convenient arrangement for turning engines.

A great many ladies and a considerable number of gentlemen waiting at the station evinced the general interest taken in the arrival of the first regular train. Several horses and carriages added to the liveliness of the scene.

Upon leaving the station the line at first approaches the town, and, after skirting it, turns towards the windmill of Don Antonio Diaz, passing close to the right of it.

Several 'ranchos' and some 'azotea' houses appear as we go along, and about two leagues from Florida we sight the flour-mill of Don Juan Patron, a quarter of a mile to the right. For nearly another league the line continues to pass principally through chacras, and then the open camp is once more gained, and little of interest is met with till we come to the station of La Cruz, occurring at mile eighty-two.

The house and goods shed are both of masonry, and they, as well as the sidings and other arrangements for the traffic, are in all respects similar to those at Isla Mala, previously described.

Two passengers joined the train here, but there being as yet no houses near the station, there was no populace to make a show or exhibit their joy at being placed in communication with the busy world.

From 'La Cruz' the line passes through some camps of the best description; where the cuttings and side ditches of the railway exposed the soil; nothing but rich black vegetable earth was to be seen. The deer recognize the sweetness of the grass which it produces, nor are the ostriches unaware of its attractions, as large numbers of both mingling with the flocks of cattle on every side looked calmly at the passing train with an expression partaking more of curiosity than fear, and here too, has our countryman with the historic name of Wellington chosen his lines in pleasant places, in this promised land, and feeds his flocks inpatriarchal style, with more success than ever did his namesake the 'Great Duke' lead his men to battle.

Here we passed the Estancia house of Don Pedro Castro nearly a league to the left of the line, there the two Estancias of Barcelo one close by and the other about a mile off, both to the left, a little farther on and about a league to the right stands the famous tree the 'one ombu,' a well known and conspicuous land mark for all the country around. Then comes Don Jose Martinez' azotea house with mirador, not far off the railway, and shortly afterwards we reached the Station of 'Sarandi Grande,' named from an arroyo in the neighbourhood and distant ninety-nine miles from Montevideo. The station buildings and works are precisely similar to those of the others already described, except that the quoin-stones of the houses are of a reddish-brown colour which gives a very good effect in combination with the greyish tinge of the other stonework.

Here we met and crossed the train from Durazno which was waiting for us, and into which the General Manager changed for the purpose of returning to Montevideo. The Engines whistled and both trains started in opposite directions on their respective journeys.

All this part of the country traversed by the railway is most fertile, but on approaching Durazno the soil becomes lighter, and is not so rich; on this portion of the journey we passed by several Estancias the most conspicuous of which were those of Martinez, Cardoso, Smith and Garnett, and Pereira to the left of the line, and Rebollo and Cega to the right, and then about five miles before reaching Durazno we came upon the Chacras, which look well cultivated, and as if belonging to prosperous owners. We understand that provision has been made for another Station, between Sarandi Grande and Durazno, and that it is the intention of the Directors to build it as soon as some negotiations regarding the site of it, which are now going on, are finished.

As we approached the end of our journey evident signs appeared of unusual interest on the part of the inhabitants. Groups of people were collected and many horsemen were there with a profusion of silver ware about the trappings of their steeds, in fact the occasion was treated as a holiday, and people dressed in their best to do honour to it.

The platform at the terminus was crowded, there being at least 500 persons present, two-thirds of whom were ladies. Schoolboys, with silk sashes of the national colors, white and blue, added to the effect. Bands marched through the town and played enlivening airs, and nothing but signs of enthusiasm and rejoicing was seen on all sides. Processions were formed, rockets fired off, and the two Plazas were decorated, and transparencies exhibited as night came on, with allegorical figures representing Liberty, the Arts, Sciences, Manufactures, Agriculture and Commerce, and various suitable inscriptions in honor of each; and, to associate all this more closely with the occasion which had given rise to it, on one of the obelisks was placed the inscription, "Viva la Inauguracion del Ferro-Carril Central del Uruguay.—Durazno, 1874."

At night a ball was given on an extensive scale by the inhabitants of Durazno in honour of the opening. The ball-rooms were beautifully decorated and well lighted, and dancing was kept up till about 4 in the morning, when the assembled guests departed, much pleased with the whole affair. In the excitement of the moment, and the confusion of the crowd by which the train was received upon its arrival at Durazno, I omitted to give a description of that station, without which my communication would be incomplete. I shall therefore now proceed to correct this omission.

The terminal station at Durazno stands in a commanding and well chosen position, giving universal satisfaction to the inhabitants of the town. Near to it, but higher up the hill, is an old mill, recently struck by lightning, whose torn roof shows the force which must have fallen on it.

The station-house, goods shed, engine shed and water tower, are all solid stone buildings of the best description, the quoins being red, similar to those described to us as occurring at Sarandi Grande, contrast agreeably with the rest of the masonry. The sidings are numerous and extensive, and they, as well as the turn-table, tank, pump, well and buildings, have been carefully arranged with a view to provide for a large traffic.

The town of Durazno is pleasantly situated on high land overlooking the fertile valley of the river Yi; at present it contains 4,600 inhabitants, there being 14,400 in the entire department, but there is every reason to believe that it will increase rapidly both in size and prosperity, now that it has become the terminus of the railway.

To sum up, we will give a few particulars which may be of interest to our readers, especially those belonging to the engineering profession, of whom we are happy to number a great many among our subscribers.

The total length of the Central Uruguay Railway (from Montevideo to Durazno) is 128½ miles.

The number of stations upon it, counting those at each end, is 17, to which will have to be added the other provided for, but not yet built.

The bridges consist of one 1338 feet long, over the Santa Lucia, that of 570 feet at the 'Pintado,' the 'Canalon Grande' bridge 167 feet in two openings and the following at various places—

5	spans of 33 feet each
5	do 29 do.
11	do 16 feet 6 inches each.
4	do 13 do do.

together with several smaller bridges and culverts.

The earthworks were begun at Las Piedras in August 1871 and the line was opened to traffic, to across the river Santa Lucia, on 15 September 1872: while the remaining length was begun in April of the latter year and has now been opened throughout to Durazno.

The works were carried out on both these sections under the immediate supervision of Mr. Prebble, for the eminent contractors Messrs. Waring Brothers of London, whose representative in the River Plate is Mr. R. Crawford; the engineer-in-chief of the Railway Company was Mr. Brunlees, the Resident Engineer being Mr. Dupré at first, and afterwards Mr Chamberlain, who is now General Manager of the line, and we, congratulate him upon having under his control one of the most important railways in the River Plate, and one which the experience derived from a year and nine months working of the first forty miles opened, leads to the expectation that it will enjoy a very large traffic, while it cannot fail to exert a highly beneficial influence on the future prosperity of the Republic of Uruguay.

MONTEVIDEAN LETTER

July 13th.

There has not been much done today in any class of business, though a little activity was shown on the Bolsa, and the sales were on a small scale.

The steamers Calderon, Montevideo, and Wassimon, all arrived from Rio de Janeiro, but brought no later dates than what are already in your possession, excepting those received by private houses that have not been made public. The steamer Calderon brought from Rio Grande do Sul a good amount of specie, of which the following is a list:—

Proudfoot, Hall and Co...	72,900	mil reis
C. Nova and Ferrer, hijo	600	do
Benito Lombardino	1,244	do
Francisco Vidolla	900	do

making a total of 75 contos, 644 mil reis, which is very acceptable.

The steamer Rio de la Plata arrived yesterday from the Uruguay ports and yours, and brought the following:—

A. Lapier	50 00
Guerra & Lapuente	5,000 00
Seijo & Co	1,000 00
Scavelo, Taliano & Co	4,000 00
P. Eyharalde & Co	292 18
Christian Schenser	200 00
Q. F. Lustiati	2,000 00
F. D. Teisduck	60 000
	12,602 18

Besides which she brought 89 passengers.

The steamer Jupiter also arrived yesterday, and sails again this afternoon for your port; she brought down 102 passengers, besides a lot of specie amounting to $6,700, consigned to Maua and Co.

The sales on the Bolsa to-day amounted to the following:—

Deuda Interna, 2nd Series—
3,000$ at 53 per cent. for end of month.
120,000 at 61 do.
80,000 at 61½ do.
50,000 at 60½ do.
10,000 at 61½ do.
10,000 at 61¾ do.
Empresstto Pacification, 1st Series—
3,000$ at 93 per cent. for to-morrow.
Empresstito Pacificacion, 2nd Series.
220,000$ at 93 per cent. cash.

In exchange the only amounts that have been passed to-day are £4,000 at 50⅞, and £5,000 at 51d. on London, and 100,000 francs at 5.34 on Antwerp. Exchange on your city is at ¼ per cent.

A most unfortunate affair occurred to-day—a Mr. Pope, who was married to the widow of the late Mr. Sheppard but a short time ago, had come into town for the purpose of sending his wife's children to school, but owing to unaccountable circumstances he went into the Matrix, and seating himself down in the bishop's chair, put a revolver to his heart, and shot himself dead. The body was taken to the Cabildo, and being identified by some that knew him, Major Munroe gave the necessary orders for his burial, which will take place to-morrow.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Saint Patrick's Society, faithful to its trust, has lost no time in responding to the wail of woe from the camp against begging protection for life and property the blood-stainded banditti now ravaging the province. A meeting of the society is called for to-morrow, Thursday evening, for the purpose of taking up this vital matter energetically, and adopting a petition to Government showing how urgent is the necessity for sharp and decisive official action. The President and city Directors earnestly request the presence of all camp Directors and members who may be able to attend. The crisis is a vital one for the camp. The plague of blood must be stamped out, now or never, and it is a duty to apply first for help to the constituted authorities.

We give to-day a full description of the opening of the Central Uruguay Railway to Durazno, an event of very great importance to the neighbouring Republic.

The Royal Mail steamer Boyne, Captain Reeks, sails to-day for Europe. Letters can be posted at the Capitania up to 11 o'clock. The Boyne takes but very few passengers this time, which may be considered a sign of the times. People are so frightfully hard-up at present that no one has money for doing the South American nabob in London or at German watering places. We suppose good times will come again before the end of the world; but "quien sabe?".

We invite all our horticultural and botanic subscribers to visit the Court and inspect a curious parasitical tree branch presented lately to our museum by a kind friend. It is almost, but not quite, as great a curiosity as Mr. Walsh's stone, which we so magnanimously refused the offer of a few days ago.

"Matrimony", said a modern Benedict the other day, "produces remarkable revolutions. Here am I, for instance, in ten short months changed from a sighing lover to a loving sire."

The morning papers yesterday were as bare as bodkins, except a couple of stiff articles in the Nacion on the political situation, and more than the usual number of murders, robberies and outrages of all kinds. The Government-house people seem not to know or care a button about the truly awful state of the camp. None of our native colleagues have taken the matter up, so absorbed are they all in politics. Yet the tide of bloody crime is surging higher and higher daily, and the worst results will ensue if the authorities remain dormant any longer.

Advices from Villa Occidental report a fracas there between two Majors in the Argentine garrison. The senior, Diaz, put the younger, Bonaura, under arrest, and the latter immediately attempted suicide by discharging a pistol into his breast. The wound did not prove mortal, however, and the foolish young man is recovering.

In the last drawing of the Caridad Lottery at Montevideo, on the 10th, two peons employed in the Custom-house there carried off the best part of the big prize—1,000 ounces. What luck for the Ligurians! who, perhaps, never heard of the STANDARD, and wouldn't know it if they saw one.

At the meeting of the National Deputies on Monday a project by Sr. Cano for paying off the Debt caused by the war with Brazil was sent to Committee. The Petition Committee recommended the admission of the Alsinista Deputies for Buenos Ayres. Mr. Walsh's petition for a reduction of duty on the import of limestone was rejected, and the House rose.

Don Jose L. Dominguez passed a brilliant examination on Monday for his degree as Doctor of Law, his answering being unanimously declared 'distinguido' by the examiners. The young lawyer is son of the eminent member of the Federal Court Dr. Don Jose Dominguez.

Advices from the South frontier declare that things are going to the dogs as fast as they can down there, the Indians at Bahia Blanca raiding away every day, and the troops demoralized. On the other hand Numuncura and his warriors have apparently submitted to the Government, and he has sent 100 lances to General Rivas as hostages.

Amongst the deaths registered yesterday were those of a lady named Cipriana Carranza from decrepitude, Peter Moral from apoplexy, and a jolly nigger named Terrada who slipped off suddenly. The first of this interesting trio was 100 years of age, the second 90, and the Ethiopian 115. It is pitiable to see good citizens thus cut off in the prime of life.

Strange to say, there was no new Municipal project yesterday. The Lord Mayor and Aldermen are evidently pumped out, and Impecuniosity puts an insuperable bar to carrying out a single one of all the mighty schemes we have heard so much of lately.

Messrs. McLean and Co., of 4 Reconquista, are advertising coal and coke for sale, delivered free of cart hire in the city and suburbs. This will be a great convenience for Flores residents.

The iron of impecuniosity has been stuck in our souls here in Buenos Ayres for a long time, but we are revelling in a financial paradise in comparison with our unfortunate neighbors at Montevideo. The harrowing state of their pockets withers up our editorial soul with sympathetic agony; for to such a push are they reduced that Ink is now a thing of the past there, and books are kept and letters written with the cheapest and worst of lead-pencils. For some days past our communications from the sister city have all been written with pencil, and the 'prayers reversed' of our compositors and proof-reader can be more easily imagined than put in print. We appeal to our friend Behrens and others in the trade to let all STANDARD correspondents have a few pens and a little ink on 'tick' till times mend down there. In any case, those Montevidean friends who wish to write to us must beg, borrow or steal materials wherewith to do it decently, as we'll publish no more pencil marks. Poor Montevideo! We never expected to live to see her so miserably reduced.

An experienced old gentleman says that all that is necessary in the enjoyment of love or sausages is confidence.

We received yesterday from a leading subscriber an interesting article on the figure 4, as a set off to a paragraph about the figure 5 which we lately published. We hope to find space for it in a day or two. Our correspondent makes out a strong case for No. 4. We have also heard No. 3 extolled to the skies; indeed every man has a pet number. We don't mind confessing a decided partiality for Number One. Just try it.

Greek met Greek the other night in a tavern on Paseo Julio, the tug of war resulting for one of them in a dangerous dig in the ribs from a dagger, the aggressor escaping as usual. Wherever Greeks congregate 'gresca' are inevitable.

It is quite extraordinary the increase of traffic from the Boca by rail to all parts of the country. The Empresa can hardly supply the demand for waggons; almost daily 10 to 14 waggons from the Western Railway, and as many from the Southern, may be seen loading with lumber, coal, tiles, iron, &c. for Chivilcoy and Chascomus direction, besides the traffic required for Ensenada. The 'empalmes' of the lines of this province have already effected great good in cheapness of freight and rapidity of delivery, and once the large dredge gets to work, and the Canaleta of the Boca opened so that owners of small vessels can with certainty enter at all times of the tide, we predict that the former bustle and 'bee hive' appearance of the Boca will be revived with more than its ancient activity. Come, Mr. Moneta, let us see you at work. There is much idle capital on the banks of the valuable little river waiting for you to commence operations. You have Government instructions to go on, and the dredge is in your hands, and in working order. Go-a-head, and you will confer a great boon on the whole commercial community.

Yesterday the celebrated cause pending between Dn. J. M. Estrada on the one hand, and the Municipality on the other, as to the right the latter had of knocking down the garden wall of the plaintiff and opening a road right through his quinta was brought to a close. The sentence has not only been favorable to the proprietor, but the Judges also set down the rule to be henceforth observed in cases of this nature. As many of our countrymen find themselves actually involved in cases of the same kind, we would recommend them especially to read over the sentence given in this warmly disputed question, the length of which alone prevents us from giving it here 'in extenso.' "Right over might," bravo Mr. Estrada! The poor proprietors will thank you for your pluck.

The latest plan for an 'elastic currency' is to have greenbacks printed on India rubber.

ON 'CHANGE.

July 14, 1874.

Ounces	400
Sovs	122½
Pats	25
Nat. Bonds	73½
Cedulas	80½

The Cedula market ruled very stiff to-day, and many brokers look for high prices for the end of the month. Money, they say, was most freely offered to-day at 10 per cent. on Cedulas, and people complain that the stock usurps the place of fair trade paper. Beyond all doubt, a good deal of money is going into the stock.

There is much said in commercial circles about the very revolutionary articles which appear in some of the morning papers. The Pampa is greatly praised for the temperate tone of its leaders and throwing its weight into the scale in favor of law and order. Still there were very strange rumors current on 'Change to-day.

Sovereigns were sold at a premium of ½ to-day; the packet will take about £50,000 stg. in gold.

National Bonds came on the market to-day. The Bonds sold are those received from the Bienhechora del Plata, the following were the sales:

1,800	cash at	73
5,000	do	73½
5,000	do	73¾

The following were the Cedula sales—

For cash	4,200	80
End month	10,000	80½
do	20,000	80
do	5,000	80½
do	10,000	80
July 15	20,000	80½

Argentine Bank—
20 shares cash at 3 premium.

Exchange rules very active; it seems the Provincial Bank has taken £100,000 for this mail and took 60,000 do. for Gironde. All the Banks drew to-day at 48⅜, and at this rate; most of the commercial bills were done at this rate; also something done at ⅛, about £500,000 in all passed; the rates on continent the same, on France 5,13 to 14, on Antwerp 5,15.

There was talk of the failure of a small English firm on 'Change this evening, no name given, supposed to be a small affair.

At 4 p.m. Mr. O'Gorman in Montevideo wired us to stand by, as Britannia in sight, but up to closing Bolsa hour nothing up.

Mr. Latiner Saunders took leave of his friends on 'Change to-day, he sails in the Boyne and will return towards the close of the year.

The sale of a fine piece of property at Temperley station is announced, but as yet no particulars given.

The fine Hamburg steamer Montevideo, Capt. Kier, entered port this morning. She brings her usual assorted cargo and good list of passengers. She sails on 20th.

There was a great business done to-day in dry hides. In sheepskins and in wool, nearly all English buyers, and all business done in pursuance, they say, of telegrams received from London. Everything in the shape of produce looks stiff, and a regular push made on sheepskins. Two lots wool sold this afternoon, South, one lot at 78 free of burr, and the other with burr at 66—buyer, German. The sheepskin buyers are all English.

At four p.m. it was rumoured that the National Bank had refused to renew Municipal bills, and that they would be protested; they amount to over 200,000 pats. Discount brokers report money easier, and freely offered on stocks at 9, 10 and 12.

In the liquidation Cedulas ruled up.

30,000 cash for to-morrow, at 80¾.

Messrs. Gomensoro and Maffeis report continued land sales of the town of San Cipriano, from the 21st June to 14th July their sales reach 600,000 m/c. Good business this.

The mails from Montevideo to-day brought up some further produce news from Europe, but, of course, it was held up a great secret. It was currently rumoured that one party held a Rio Grande telegram with great news from London to the 10th, but neither in Montevideo or here could we find out its import; and it appears to us that there is much exaggeration respecting the importance of the message. However, exporters are in the very best spirits; wool, hides, tallow, maize, everything shipped pays, and it is pleasant to see one branch of our commercial community making money.

Perhaps the most important news in the market to-day was the great water work contract, which has just been concluded by the well-known English plumber firm of Calderwood and Leslie, to lay the water pipes through the whole northern portion of the city for the city improvement contractors, Messrs. Newman and Medici, beginning at Calle Moreno, and running right out to Almagro on one side, and Palermo and Maldonado on the other. The contract amounts to millions, and Messrs. Calderwood and Leslie have 30 months for its termination. The principal tank will be in the open space at Calle Ayacucho, between Cordova and Temple, and the principal main will run from the pumps down at the works beneath the Recoleta up to the tank, 24 inch. From the tank, the main will run 36 in down Temple, and up Paseo de Julio; another main up Rivadavia 27 in to Lorea thence 33 in, out to Almagro. Under the pavement of each square of the city the pipes 3 to 4 in, will run all round and be independent of each other and connected with every house, sluices in various sections of city to flush sewerage. Messrs. Calderwood and Leslie have a high reputation as contractors, having done all the heavy contract work for the Mutual Gas Co., in this city; they have also just concluded the great main for the Santa Fe road and put up all the gas lamps to Mr. Shaw's entire satisfaction, and we believe in this new water work contract they will give equal satisfaction.

To-day in the South Market there was a great sale of camp cow hides 25,000 hides and all from only two estancias, the business is the largest done in the South Market to-day.

A new steamboat company for port service is being formed; all the preliminaries have been arranged, and about one-third of the shares are subscribed for. The owners of the small steamers now plying in port have clubbed together, put their steamers into the society at a certain valuation, and thus all the former rivalry carried on between these little steamers will be done away with. Mr. J. Zuleroni is the founder of the new Company, and the following the new steamers:

Lavarello & Co.
Tigalia	14,000
Aquilino	12,000	26,000
C. W. Beer & Co.
Belgrano	18,000
Flores	12,000	30,000
Matti y Piera.
Buenos Ayres	16,000
Helvecia	13,000
Jenny	10,000
Kate	10,000
Baby	8,000	57,000
		113,000 pats

The capital of the company is marked at 130,000 pats., in shares of 100 pats. each, payment of 40 per cent. being only required to begin. The port business is so important now that it is thought the company ought to pay a dividend of from 40 to 60 per cent. per annum; estimates based on the present working of the above steamers give even over this, so we believe the new concern will prove a brilliant success.

To-day, at the Contribucion Directa office in the Government house, there was a great crowd, to-morrow being the last day for payment.

To-morrow, 15th, is the last day to pay up to the Mortgage Bank the quarter's interest and amortisation.

From the English papers just received we extract the following:—

"CENTRAL ARGENTINE.

"Mr. Editor—The result of the meeting on Friday last to consider the committee's report must be a matter of great congratulation to the shareholders. As some of those present, although they voted for the distribution of 30s. instead of 20s., did not perhaps clearly understand how they were entitled to it, may I ask your insertion of this letter, with the following explanation which has been given to me.

	Capital. £	Annual Interest. £
Amount of capital upon which the 7 p. c. guarantee is effective:—

Leaving for interest on £1,300,000 share capital		£84,741
Or upon 65,000 £20 shares an equivalent per annum of 26s per share.
Interest due to shareholders from March 25th: One year's interest from May 17th, 1872, to May 17th, 1873, as above		26s.
1862, to May 17th, 1872, paid by the contractors to the Company, equivalent to £13,208, or per share		4s.
Making a total of per share		30s.

And in addition to this there is also the further year's interest from May 17th, 1873, to May 17th 1874, equal to per share, 26s.

Arrivals since commencement of ship 4,330,000 arrobas.
Do. last advices 30,000 do.
Stock in deposit 100,000 do.
We notice continued activity in our market, and the few sales from depot have brought our stocks down to a very small amount.
The demand is principally for Havre and Antwerp, with but a moderate amount for England.
Prices close firm, late arrivals all sold. Our quotations are—
Havre and Liverpool Good No. 1, f82 a 85.
Do superior 88.
Antwerp good 70 a 76.
Do fair 60 a 68.
Lambswool.
According to class.
Sheepskins.
We still have to notice the very few matadero skins coming to market, and do not look for any material increase in the killing at present. The drought is over; but sheep are, and will be poor for some time to come. And the quantity of skins to go forward this year, judging from present prospects must be very small. Camp skins are coming in, and, owing to the non-arrival of mataderos, are in active demand, especially for France. Our quotations are:—
Matadero 24 to 25½ rls. sales.
Camp 21½ to 22½ do do.
Inferior 15 to 16 do do.
Horse Hair.
North $148 to 150.
South $160 to 170.

SONG.

AIR—"Fine old English Gentleman."

I'll tell to you a little tale,
That occurred long time ago,
About a little sailor man
And a pointer dog, called "Jack:"
This sailor liked his 'tot,'
And the dog was just the same;
So, whenever "Jack" went on the spree,
To join him he was game,
Like a fine old English pointer dog,
one of the real old sort.

For many a year they caroused, then,
On land and on the shore,
Till they could "spree" no longer,
For poor Jack he was no more,
But the dog would not contented be,
On land or on the sea,
Unless he could drink, poor Jack's health,
In OTARD and DUPUY—
Like a fine old English pointer
one of the real old sort.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND CO.
101--Calle Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo, and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Maná & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA &Co.,
M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM,
E. DE LAS CARRERAS.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p. %) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wish can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

Bristol's sarsaparilla

Is prepared in the most scientific manner, by thoroughly educated chemists and Druggists, who have had many years' experience. It is not a simple extract from one article, but is compounded of extracts from a number of Roots, Herbs Barks, and Leaves, all of which are possessed of some particular virtue or power in curing the diseases that have their source in the blood and humors; these different vegetable extracts are combined in such a way as to retain, in so full strength, the special curative virtue possessed by each. The root of the Sarsaparilla plants found in Honduras, is that which we use in this preparation; it is the kind which all medical men esteem most. About fifty per cent. of Bristol's Sarsagarilla consists of the concentrated extract, the remainder, as above stated being composed of extracts from other powerful, cleansing and healing, vchetable substances. It does not contain any thing that is dagerous or injurious to health, and in this, as in nearly every other respect, is entirely different from all other preparations sold under the name of Sarsaparilla.

By having our own agents at he places where the various roots, drugs, herbs and plants, composing our medicines, are produced, we are enabled to exercise that constant care in selection which insures uninformity of excellence, and we spare no money and no effort to procure the best—and only the best—of every article entering into their composition; and it is with the most abiding confidence we say, to be sick of all nations and all countries, that, in Bristol's Sarsaparilla you have a remedy more reliable than any before offered to you, and which will no disappoint syou in the cure of.

Syphilis, or Venoral Disease.

Abscesses, Boils, Eruptions
Scrofula or King's Evil,
Female Derangements,

& Dumb Ague.

As a means of building up the consiitution that has been broken down by the excessive use of Mercury, Iron, or other Minerals, our Sarsaparilla will be found most excellent, and can be administered with safety to the weakest patients. As a purifier of the blood and humors, in the Spring and early Summer, it will the found unfailing. It can be taken freely at seasons, rainy or dry. For some of the above diseases, the use of the Sarsaparilly must be continued a considerable time, especially for those that are hereditary or constitutional in their nature—such as Scrofula: but a faithful compliance with the directions will always relieve and mitigate, and in a great majority of cases will effect a complete cure. It will also be found, in all of the above diseases, that a cure will be greatly hasted by using our Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills, in moderate does, in connection with the Sarsaparilla; they carry off large quantities of morbific or diseased matter set free in the system by the Sarsaparilla, and in this way facilitate the return to mal fnuctional operations. —o— 46

HABIENDO ocurrido al Exmo. Gobierno de la Provincia en M yo del año ppdo., solicitando, para los objetos que corresponden a mi derecho, vista de un Espediente que quedo archivado en 1852 en la Escribania Mayor de Gobierno, cuestionando la propiedad de la casa Calle de Suipacha num. 8, se me concedio; resultando sin embargo, segun certifica la Escribania, no hallarse alli dichos autos.

En su virtud, estandose haciendo hoy unas obras, apar tement importantes, en dicha finca, y no mediando sobre el asunto principal, en todo el tiempo que ha pasado hasta la fecha, ningun arreglo o pago, ni cosa que i fiera mi conformidad con la posesion factual, bajo las circunstancias creo mi deber hacer conocer en general las siguientes protestas—

Acta—Juzgado de Paz de San Miguel—Viva la Confederacion Argentina.

Compareció en este Juzgado de Paz, por citacion que se le hizo, D. Juan B. Kiernan, quien posee una casa, Calle de Suipacha num. 8, perteneciente a la familia del finado D. Lucas Gonzalez, a quien le hizo saber haberse presentado con poderes amplios el Sr. D. Francisco de la Serna, reclamandola a nombre de la dicha familia del finado Gonzalez, y habiendole leido el Superior Decreto del 12 de Marzo del presente año, en que consideraba este Juzgado comprendida dicha finca, y haberlo dado 40 dias para su desalojo, contesto: "Que la casa Calle de Suipacha num. 8 le pertenece en la mas legal e incontrovertible propiedad, por haberla comprado judicialmente, con todas las solemnidades y requisiciones de ley," como demuestran las escrituras que exhibio de fecha 23 de Junio de 1846, otorgadas por el ex-Juez de 1ª Instancia, Dr. D. Manuel Manzilla; "que en esta virtud no se creia no podia creerse absolutamente comprendido en los efectos del Superior Decreto citado, sino por el contrario sostenia tener toda justicia para ser amparado en sus derechos por las autoridades del pais y mantenido en quieta posesion de la finca cuyo desalojo y entrega violentamente se le ordenaba—que por todas estas consideraciones dicha intimacion la reputaba altamente atentoria e ilegal; en cuya virtud (con el debido respeto) manifestaba su sorpresa a llenarla, y protestaba con todo fuerza y en todo forma contra ella, y de reclamar oportunamente donde mejor le correspondiese contra quien ó quienes hubiera lugar por derecho y mas le conveniere, por los daños, menoscabos y perjuicios que se le irrogaban;" concluyendo con pedir copia de esta acta para defensa de sus derechos, y firmo.

Buenos Aires, Abril 1°, 1852.
JUAN B. KIERNAN.
JOSE MARIA POSSE,
Juez de Paz.

Otra protesta, igual en su fondo, y referente a la misma casa y su contenido, formule en el Consulado Britanico el 16 de Octubre de 1852, por haber resuelto el Gobierno, Provisional de la epoca su entrega, posesionandose de ella por medio de la fuerza, rechazando para esto la intervencion y tramitacion natural del asunto por los Tribunales competentes.

El penultimo parrafo de la citada es como sigue—

"Por las presentes certifico que copia autorizada de la antecedente protesta ha sido trasmitida por mi, en una nota oficial, a S. E. el Ministro de Gobierno de la Provincia de Buenos Ayres, a pedimiento de dicho Juan B. Kiernan.

Consulado Britanico, Octubre 22 de 1852.

Max Havelaar
BY MULTATULI.

It is difficult to say whether Max Havelaar is more interesting as a novel or powerful as a political pamphlet. From either point of view it is of rare and first rate excellence. In its life-like actuality it constantly recalls Defoe, while in its tender and original humor it suggests Sterne in his best moods.—"Westminister Review," April, 1868.

* * * That is the whole story. A book which combines more humor, knowledge of character, high thought, deep pathos, and vigorous political intelligence than any we have read for a long time.—"Evening Star," Feb. 14, 1868.

The story is remarkably clever, a rollicking, eccentric, grotesque and satirical humor overflowing on every page. It is unlike any other book that we have read * * * Some of the episodes, that of Saidjah, for instance, are manifest creations of an imaginative genius of no ord nary kind.—"British Quarterly Review," April, 1868.

It is a novel in form, but in reality a political pamphlet. The revelations contained in it startled the country, and have ever since formed the ground for contention in the Legislature. Although Max Havelaar may seem less attractive to many who read nothing but novels than the morbid and silly stories which are in demand at circulating libraries, yet by other and more judicious readers it will be heartily welcomed.—"Daily News," Feb. 10, 1868.

A more stinging satire of the lower propensities of the Dutch could hardly be conceived than that embodied in the Amsterdam coffee broker, Batavus Drystubble, (who) stands out as one of the most remarkable embodiments of money grubbing Pharisaism which literature has yet produced.

Thackeray himself could not have surpassed this scathing page ("God so directs all things that orthodoxy leads to wealth," etc.). It is immortal, come what may to the book that contains it.—"Contemporary Review," April, 1868.
